

An initiative of Indian Development Foundation and PENS Sahyog Foundation

Our Mission

A ray of hope

“Aashayein – A Ray of Hope” is dedicated to reach-out underprivileged kids who will be facilitated with books and stationery materials for their education during the start of academic year.

We do remember our childhood days when at the start of each academic year, we would run to the nearby shop with parents to buy new books, textbooks and other stationery materials. But there are countless kids who are deprived of this basic need for their education. Can we do something for them? Project Aashayein is the answer.

Through project Aashayein, we are ensuring that the child will never fall short of notebooks to write and pens to express as we provide them with adequate materials required by them for the entire year.

Our Vision

Empower them with knowledge

Our vision is to help them build their future by providing them with all the support.

With prime focus being Education, we aim to empower them with the best of the facilities which every child deserves.

We also focus on creating the right ambience and surrounding for them so as to ensure they don't lose their focus nor interest.

Educate a child, Enrich a Life.

This year we aim to gift stationery materials to 25000 children. Each stationery kit contains all the materials required for the entire academic year, with a costing of around INR. 400/- per kit. The kits are made according to the need of the student as shared by the teachers in charge.

Our team ensures that each kit reaches the child as they personally distribute the kit by visiting every school.
